The Copyholders Index - Sources and Group Contact

The medieval parish of Uppingham contained two manors known as the Preston with Uppingham Manor and the Rectory Manor. They comprised roughly 45% and 15% of the land area respectively and were held in copyhold tenure by tenants according to the custom of the manor. The reminder of the parish was held freehold but formed part of the Preston with Uppingham Manor. The smaller Rectory Manor was vested in the Rector of Uppingham by the right of his office for the period of his incumbency. It contained no freehold other than that belonging to the parson. Ownership and descent of the larger Preston Manor can be consulted in the Victoria County History of Rutland.

The Court Rolls of the Preston Manor comprised 12 volumes, the first written in Latin and the remainder in English numbered 'A' to 'K' covering (with some gaps in the early years) the period from 1658 to 1936. When they came to be deposited for safe keeping with the Record Office for Leicestershire, Leicester & Rutland , Volume F (1830-1850), Volume J (1892-1908) and Volume K (1907-1937) were not included and no trace of these books has been discovered since. A number of other rolls and part rolls are known and will be considered in Part 3 of the Index.

In the 1970s members of the Uppingham Local History Group made summaries of all twelve volumes including those now missing and from them prepared the Card Index that is copied here. With hind sight and in view of the subsequent loss of the three volumes it is now regretted that the summaries and therefore the Index did not cover transactions dealing purely with agricultural land. In the following years, additional information, mostly identifications of properties referred to in the rolls, has been added to the Summaries and Index as investigations into Uppingham's past have progressed.

Typed and edited copies of the Group's summaries of the Latin Volume, a British Library Volume and Volumes A and B are deposited at the Record Office and in the Local Studies Room of the Rutland County Museum.

The material has been widely used in publications by the successor Uppingham Local History Study Group which is sponsoring its addition to their webpage. It is hoped that ultimately the court roll transcripts, the card index and other original source material about Uppingham will find their way to ROLLR to be available to researchers.

Biographical

Members of the Uppingham Local History Group (the forerunner of the Uppingham Local History Study Group) who in the 1970s investigated and recorded the manorial records of the town and parish of Uppingham.

David Parkin - Retired solicitor, formerly practicing at Oakham where he served also as Clerk to the Governors of the Hospital of St John and St Anne from 1970 to 1991. The Rutland Record Society has published his studies of Rutland Charities – The History of the Hospital of Saint John the Evangelist and of Saint Anne of Okeham, Gilson's Hospital at Morcott and Byrch's Charity at Barrow.

Mary Parkin - Read languages at University gaining her degree in French and Latin. Thereafter she joined the staff of the Plymouth High School for Girls teaching languages until her marriage to David Parkin, sharing with him his interests in history and old documents. Her knowledge of languages allied with her husband's legal training greatly assisted the translation and interpretation of the court rolls.

Betty Finch - Life Member and former Vice-Chairman of the Rutland Record Society. She has contributed to historical research on Uppingham and Rutland and extensively on the Finch family.

Norman Byford - Retired actuary who moved to Uppingham in 1970 where he became a Reader at the Parish Church and investigated the history of his 17th century house and other buildings in the High Street.

Peter Lane - Retired from the Colonial Service (Uganda) in 1968 and joined the Corby Development Corporation as Assistant to the General Manager, then spending several more years reviewing and archiving records of other English new towns for the Commission for the New Towns. A life member of the Rutland Record Society and member of the Uppingham Local History Study Group.

Description of the Contents

The Index comprises three parts -

Part 1 Copyhold Tenants of the Preston with Uppingham Manor;

Part 2 Copyhold Tenants of the Rectory Manor of Uppingham;

Part 3 Strays and Irregulars.

One part is allocated to each of the two manors and the third records information found in a number of other rolls and portions of rolls that did not find their way to be bound with the main body of the court rolls.

The Part 1 section is a copy in digital format of the card index used to locate references to tenants named in the court rolls. It was created as a tool to search for people. Subsequently addresses were added when it was realised knowing the location of properties owned or occupied by copyholders could be equally valuable. Where it was felt needed to clarify an entry, information such as rentals, relationships, neighbours, occupations, etc has been added. Names of people to whom there are cross-references appear in bold and the address or location of a property in red. Additional references and sources have been added as footnotes.

The Index is the work of several people under the leadership of David & Mary Parkin. It was the method of members of the group to prepare summaries of the entries the court rolls dealing with built property and from them to make out a card in the name of each person named therein. For those with the same name where it was not certain they were the same person, separate cards were made.

The index cards provided limited space, so necessitated use of abbreviations. By and large these have been retained and a list of their meanings provided. To assist users of the Index, a list of street & place names formerly in use but now no longer current and also a map of the town showing the organisation of the manors, has been added.

In most cases the spelling of people's names has been left as written in the court roll. A recurring problem are people who used different versions of their own names at different times, made worse by those writing up the court rolls having their own ideas. Fashion played a part too. When writing the cards, members followed what appeared in the court roll. Those using the Index should use imagination and initiative to test variant spellings.

Because this is the work of several people over a period of years, entries vary in length, in the amount of information and detail provided and their accuracy. Being two steps away from the original material, inevitably errors and contradictions will be found. It cannot be emphasised too strongly that the Index is a search tool and should not be treated as an authoritive source which are the court roll volumes held in the Record Office for Leicestershire, Leicester and Rutland at Wigston.

1887 The Bank's foreclosure and sale of 28 HSW was not the end of Aris' career as a plumber and painter. In 1887[1] and again in 1891[2] he is found at the Horse & Trumpet[3] on London Road next to the Rectory house, his occupation described as 'plumber & painter and licensed victualler'. With him were his wife Emma, sons George also a licensed victualler and Thomas a painter, and his youngest daughter Jane aged 17 described as a dressmaker. Misfortune continued to dog Thomas & Emma's steps, with their son's attempt in 1889 to murder his fiancée and her subsequent struggle for life reported in long & lurid detail by the local newspapers.[4] Yet, as the 1891 Census indicates, though these events took place on his premises, they did not cost Aris his license or his inn tenancy.

ARIS,

1889 Sept 20 Report of attempted murder by [?] Aris [Stamford Mercury]

This was not the end of Aris' career as a plumber and painter. In 1887[1] and again in 1891[2] he is found at the Horse & Trumpet[3] on London Road next to the Rectory, his occupation described as 'plumber & painter and licensed victualler'. With him were his wife Emma, sons George also a licensed victualler and Thomas a painter, and his youngest daughter Jane aged 17 described as a dressmaker.

Misfortune continued to dog Thomas & Emma's steps, with their son's attempt in 1889 to murder his fiancée and her subsequent struggle for life reported in long & lurid detail by the local newspapers.[4] Yet, as the 1891 Census indicates, though these events took place on his premises, they did not cost Aris his license or his inn tenancy.

3 Demolished in about 1960 for road widening.

Falkener/Faulkener/ Fawkener etc

Family, Stoke Dry, London & Uppingham

From Kenelm ffauconer of Stoke Dry who died in 1585, is dated the growing importance of this family in the South of Rutland, and in particular in Uppingham.

Kenelm married twice, giving his surname differently for each marriage, so that the two branches which resulted from these marriages can usually be differentiated.

From the first marriage came Anthony ffalconer, born before 1559 and died in 1621. Either he or his son Lyon built the Hall at Uppingham, upon which the date 1612 is still visible. For the next 200 years generations of Falkeners lived here until eventually there came a gambler in the family, Edward Falkener whose son had to break the entail and sell the Uppingham lands, including the Hall.

Kenelm's second marriage was more fruitful in every sense and from it spelling their name ffawkener (still no capitals until the 16th century) came men who went to London and became silk mercers. One, Everard, returned to Uppingham, bought the Manor and lived to be its most considerable citizen as the inscription in Uppingham Church shows. He died in 1653 having been High Sheriff in 1628. His son died without issue.

Everard's nephew Edward (born 1627) succeeded to the Manor and was rich and influential as a local JP and one of the MPs for Rutland. He died in 1706, when the manor was sold to the Noels [Earl of Gainsborough] and this branch of the family disappears from the scene it had dominated for some 100 years.

There were other branches of the family living in Uppingham; various cousins of a lower social status. One of these was a churchwarden Anthony Falkener, a joiner. who had a long and acrimonious law-suit with Everard Fawkener in the 1630s in which Anthony is charged before the Archbishop of Canterbury with having exacted money from the parishioners which he then proceeded to turn to his own benefit. It was a sad and bitter case, but it shows how the falconer family, however the name was spelt, being on both sides of the conflict, dominated the life of the town of Uppingham in the 17th century.

In this Index entries appear under the three spelings – Falconer, Faulkener and Fawkener. All three should be searched as both Stewards and clerks were not always consistent with their spelling of the name in the Court Rolls.

FREER, Evelyn Elizabeth

Daughter of Benjamin Freer (qv) and Elizabeth Freer (qv) his wife.

1955 circa By bequest in her Will, EEF left money to pay for the stained glass window in the Lady Chapel and and the refurbishing of the Chapel.

A small brass tablet is placed on the outside wall above the panelling at the left of the Lady Chapel altar. It commemorates the parents and siblings of Evelyn Elizabeth Freer of Bournemouth in whose memory she bequeathed the £445.15s cost of the Peter White window above the altar with additional money towards the furnishings of the Chapel.

" This Window was presented by Evelyn Elizabeth Freer
in Memory of her Father and Mother
Benjamin and Elizabeth Freer and of all other Members of her family
Dedicated
July 17th 1955. "

Evelyn Elizabeth died 24th October 1953 aged 64. Her father Benjamin Freer MRCVS and OU was a veterinary surgeon, carriage proprietor and victualler. He practiced from the stables (now demolished) behind the former White Hart Inn in High Street West which he acquired by virtue of his marriage to Elizabeth Askew daughter of the previous owner. Benjamin Freer died on the 4th November 1909. He is buried in the Lower Churchyard together with his daughter Evelyn Elizabeth and three other children who died in infancy – Edith Mary, Helen Fannie and Benjamin jnr. Their mother, Benjamin's wife Elizabeth died on 6th May 1931 aged 78 and is buried at Littleham, Devon.

Evelyn Elizabeth was their fourth child. She never married. Perhaps hers was another of those numerous private griefs from this time; the name of whoever she might have married recorded instead on the WW1 Roll of Honour at the left side of the Tower Arch.

HART, George

Grocer and tea dealer.

The Hart family provided Uppingham with at least three generations of grocers with their premises at 11 & 13 High St East. The first was George Hart the elder who died in 1790. Married to Sarah Munton they had 8 children of whom the seventh, a son George Hart the younger, was born in 1782. George Hart the son is described as a grocer and tea dealer. He and his wife Ann had 3 children, William Garner (bapt 2 Sept 1809), Sarah (bapt 23 Nov 1810) and Ann (bapt 1 May 1812). George Hart jnr died 4 June 1845 aged 63 and was buried at Uppingham on 9 June 1845. The family business was taken on by his son William Garner Hart whose wife Ann was a friend of Sarah Ogden[1] being much the same age. GH's daughter Mrs Orwood died the following 5 June 1845. The cause is not known, nor if the two were connected.

Contemporary with GH of Uppingham, another George Hart lived at Preston but frequented Uppingham worshipping at the Bethesda Chapel whereas the former and his family were Congregationalists.

1779-1783		GH appears in the Rutland Militia Roll as elected by ballot by Uppm residents liable for 3 years service. (Marriages 1754-83 and the Rutland Militia Rolls 1779-83 by the Leicester University Geneaological Society 1979)

MARTIN, Edward DD

Clerk in Holy Orders. Rector of Uppingham 1631 -1638.

EM was instituted Rector of Uppingham (non-resident) on 11 October 1631 and resigned seven and a half years later in March 1638. If his institution took place in Uppingham, the only other time he is recorded visiting the benefice was when he signed the accounts in Easter 1637. His career was centred on Queen's College, Cambridge.

His tenure in absentia at Uppingham was a disaster. His incumbency was marked by mishandling and diverting of legacies and of monies left for the poor of the town. The Archdeacon's Court had to deal with numerous cases of absention from attending services, refusals to pay church taxes, withholding of tithes, refusal to bow at the name of Christ during service, etc. The charge that he withheld pension payments due to Westminster's Dean and Chapter was only one of many complaints against him. There is no sign that he ever paid.

1 At various times also called The Puddle Wart, The Horse & Trumpet & The George & Dragon. Located on the west side of London Road adjoining the north side of The Rectory house, it was demolished in the 1950s to make way for road widening. Originally the inn comprised two properties situated some distance apart. The Inn itself was located fronting London Road with the related stables, barns, etc round the corner at Nos 2 & 3 Leamington Terrace. Williams rebuilt the latter as two dwellings, marking the change from being a travellers inn to a rather down market 'local'.

1 There seems to have been two persons by the name Robert Snouch living in Uppingham at this time – the one whose mother was named Elizabeth and the other whose parents were Joseph & Mary. The division of entries between the two Roberts is arbitrary and should be crosschecked where possible.

2 Assumed to comprise one of the Bull Houses and the 3 tenements.
But note only one Robert Snouth appears in the Hearth Taxes without indication whether he is the son of Elizabeth Snouth or of Joseph & Dorothy Snouth.

1 There seems to have been two persons by the name Robert Snouch living in Uppingham at this time – the one whose mother was named Elizabeth and the other whose parents were Joseph & Mary who may have been located at Preston, not Uppingham. The division of entries between the two Roberts is arbitrary and should be crosschecked where possible.
In a private communication from Mr Peter North dated 14 February 2014, he advised –
- RS was born in 1643 and died in 1697;
- Son of Joseph Snouth & Dorothy Snouth (née Dorothy Dalby) of Preston who were married there 6 May 1634;
- Married Mary [-];

THORPE

A numerous Uppingham family made up of many separate branches whose relationship to each other cannot now be untangled. In the 18th and early 19th centuries many of its members were stone mason and builders. A section of the family was closely connected with parts of the Wade family in Uppingham.

Professor Alan Rogers in ULHSG's Uppingham in 1851 identifies and describes all Thorpes living in Uppingham who feature in the 1951 Census.[1]

TRUSTEES OF THE TOWN HOUSE [1]

Until demolished circa 1960 for road widening, the Town House stood at the corner of High Street West and London Road between Baines Tea Shop & the Old Rectory. It formed part of the ancient possessions of the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the Parish of Uppingham being held under the Parish Land Charity in the name of Trustees, by Copyhold of Inheritance of the Rectory Manor of Uppingham. The trustees were the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor ex officio, appointed since time immemorial at the annual Vestry & Town Meeting. The Trustees let the premises on long lease and applied the income to the poor of the parish.

In September 1875 the Town House was enfranchised by William Ingram (qv) a Trustee. At a Vestry Meeting in July 1904 it was agreed to sell the premises and on 1 January 1905 by Order of the Charity Commissioners, it was sold to the Uppingham grocer Thomas R Dalton (qv).

TRUSTEES OF THE WILKERSHAW COWPASTURE

One of Uppingham's three common pastures, part of the organisation of the town's medieval open field system, the Anglo-Saxon roots of its name denotes its ancient origin[1].

The 1595 Burley Terrier[2] records land called Wilkershaw held copyhold of the Manor of Preston with Uppingham in the names of feoffees on behalf of the inhabitants of the manor (or parish). It is possible this represents only a part of the common pasture, as VCH indicates a further portion lay within the Rectory Manor. If so, it is likely the feoffees were the same for the two copyholds, appointed when needed at the Town's Vestry.

TYLER and / or TYLOR

Given the variety of handwritings of both Stewards and their clerks over centuries of court record and the vagaries of their spellings, it would be prudent to explore all possible forms of the surname appearing in the Court Rolls. For example it seems likely that Elizabeth Tyler and Elizabeth Tylor could be the same person.

For example - Tyler,
Tylor,
Taylor,
